JUST A Little Talk ON Boy's Clothing

TO MOTHERS who have boys it will be interesting. Where is the mother who is not proud of her well dressed boy? To clothe him right is just as essential as his success at school.

A well dressed boy commands respect as well as being made happy.

LION BRAND is the kind you should buy for your boy. It is so different from other makes, just like the fashionable styles in men's suits made with wide shoulder, hand made collar, shoulder pad, double elbow in the sleeve, French facing sewn with strong thread. The knickers have double seats, double knees, and seams are stitched twice, just what they should be to stand the boys now-a-days. We are sole agents for this make, and our new stock comprises all the new and nobby styles at prices you won't think too high for such a good make. Come on in, and let us show you the Lion Brand.

The Party He Belonged To

A nation of the most determined character was encountered by a young woman reporter on a country party, who was sent out to interview leading citizens as to their politics.

"May I see Mr. —?" she asked of a stern-looking woman who opened the door at one lounge.

"No, you can't," answered the woman decisively.

"But I want to know what party he belongs to," pleaded the girl.

The woman drew up her full figure. "Well, take a good look at me," she said. "I'm the party he belongs to."

NAVAL RED TAPE.

The Result of Having Neither Coffin Nor Graves in Stock.

A case once occurred, which is vouchsafed by naval officers who were present and who tell of it as a joke, showing the absurdities to which red tape can go. About twenty years ago a certain ship was in a foreign port. One of the men was taken sick and on the recommendation of the surgeon was sent to a hospital on shore. The man finally died, and it became necessary to bury him.

The simple and straightforward method would have been to call in an undertaker and have him arrange for a decent casket and a lot in the cemetery. This would be the usual procedure with a business man or ordinary citizen. The regime of economy and reform, however, would not permit so simple a course. What actually occurred was this:

The surgeon made a requisition on the paymaster for one coffin. Naturally he did not have one in stock and therefore it was forwarded to the fleet paymaster, who also, not being in the undertaking business, had no coffin on hand. Then the admiral directed the fleet paymaster to purchase one coffin after obtaining prices from six reputable dealers. The same course had to be followed in securing the grave. The surgeon made requisition on the paymaster for one grave. Strange as it may seem, the paymaster had no graves in stock. Neither had the fleet paymaster. Consequently the commandant in chief directed the fleet paymaster to procure bids from six reliable dealers in graves and purchase one from the lowest responsible bidder.

All this, of course, is a screaming farce, but it is the horrible example to show what comes when common sense and experience are set aside to give room for the play of amateur and academic fancy.—Engineering.

KIDNAPING VOTERS.

Once a Regular Feature of Political Warfare in England.

In England a generation or two ago kidnaping was a regularly recognized feature of political warfare. On the eve of an election especially men of influence on either side would mysteriously vanish to disappear later with strange tales of forcible seizures, and races across country in post-chaises driven by yelling postillions, followed by longer or shorter terms of gilded imprisonment in great manacles, where they were wino and dined in sumptuous style and treated right royally in every way, only their liberty being denied them.

Quite humble voters, too, were forcibly abducted, but these did not always fare quite so well. Thus one victim made complaint before a magistrate that he had been deceived from his house by a ruse and kept shut up in a coal hole for three days.

Wholesale kidnaping of voters in batches, too, was not unknown, the process being rendered easier by the custom of candidates paying the traveling expenses of their electors to and from the polling places.

For instance, at a certain Newcastle election a whole shipload of freemen of the borough, dispatched from London by sea, were taken by the captain—who had been heavily bribed—to Ostend and there left stranded.

During the same contest, too, and under similar circumstances a number of Berwick electors who happened to reside in London were dumped down in Norway, and a group of thirty Liverpool voters found themselves on the day of the poll cooling their heels upon quay at Rotterdam.

Pioneer Days in Missouri.

In 1841 there was in Huntsville a man who pulled teeth for 25 cents and a photographer who made daguerrotypes at $1.50 each. The first was called "doctor" and the second "proccre." They moved in the biggest circles, as being the representatives of the sciences and arts. With deer, birds and all manner of game in the woods and the fish in the streams so cheap that the poorest larders were stocked with it, the grocers did a big business in smoked, herring and salmon. The latter were real dainties, because the better food was so plentiful the pioneers got tired of it.

Saltin' the Flock.

Sheep that have been a long time without salt are apt to make their salters sick eating too much of it when the opportunity comes. He regular in feeding it to them, or better still, provide a box to which the flock can have access at all times. They will help themselves and will eat only such as is good for them.

At the Game.

"Charley, dear," said young Mrs. Torkins, "I am learning a lot about baseball. I can pick out the umpire every time."

"Oh, you can?"

"Yes. He's the gentleman with the marvellous waves on his chest!"—Washington Star.

BABY'S GREAT DANGER DURING HOT WEATHER.

More children die during the hot weather than at any other time of the year. Diarrhoea, dysentery, cholera infantum, and stomach troubles come without warning, and when a medicine is not at hand to give prompt relief, the delay may prove fatal to the child. Baby's Own Tablets should be kept in every home where there are children during the hot weather months. An occasional dose of the Tablets will prevent deadly summer complaints, or cure them if they come unexpectedly. Mrs. O. Moreau, St. Tit, Que., says: "My baby suffered from a severe attack of cholera infantum, but after giving him Baby's Own Tablets the trouble disappeared, and he regained health." Sold by medicine dealers or by mail at $1.00 a box from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Mysteries

"Oh, dear," sighed her husband's wife, "I can't find a pin anywhere. I wonder where all the pins go to anyway."

"That's a difficult question to answer," replied his wife's husband, "because they are always pointed in one direction and headed another."

A Pill That Lightens Life.—To the man who is a victim of indigestion the transaction of business becomes an added misery. He cannot concentrate his mind upon his tasks and loss and vexation attend him. To such a man Parment's Vegetable Pills offer relief. A course of treatment, according to directions, will convince him of their great value. They are confidently recommended because they will do all that is claimed for them.

A man whose relations gush over him seldom has cause to gush over them.

Minard's Liniment Cures Colds, etc.

Experience teaches what a lot more we must go through without learning anything.

The microscope in the hands of experts employed by the United States Government has revealed the fact that house flies carry thousands of germs of disease germs attached to its hairy body. The continuous use of "Minard's" will prevent all danger of infection from that source by killing both the germs and the flies.

Place for a Goat

Matters theoretical were on the tapis and Robert Elston was carefully marking the tolerances with which the public frequently flock in crowds to productions of no especial merit.

"It reminds me," said Mr. Elston, "of a brewer I once knew who had a large family, and each child had a number of animal pets. One evening a clergyman and his wife were making a formal call on the brewer, when one of the children burst riotously into the room, accompanied by his favorite goat. The callers were, of course, greatly disconcerted by this unexpected visitation."

"Louis," said the father reprovingly, "how many times have I asked you not to bring dot goat into der barber? I must insist dot you keep him in der library."—Saturday Evening Post.

A Business Head

"My boy," says the thoughtful father, "I notice that you don't get a penny or a nickel if you do not place it in the little savings bank Santa Claus brought for you last Christmas."

"Not always, papa," answers the bonny child.

"Ah! I believe, if I am not mistaken, that you spent your pennies and nickels at the little store around the corner."

"Well, my boy, if you do not save your money now, what do you expect to do when you grow up?"

"I am going to run a little store around the corner, papa. Then I'll get all the pennies and nickels."—Chicago Evening Post.

A Reasonable Charge

"A tourist in Georgia stopped overnight at the Palace hotel in a little village and expressed a desire to taste Georgia 'possum,'" said H. S. Weaver of Atlanta, to the Washington Times. "The whole 'possum, cooked in genuine Georgia style, with 'taters and greens, was placed before him."

"Two dollars a head for the 'possum," said the landlord when the guest came to settle.

"It's an outrage," said the guest.

"It's 'tender' to the way you look at it, stranger," said the landlord, "but it took me six nights' swamp walkin' to catch that 'possum, and when I killed him I killed the rheumatism with him."

What every man knows—the ideal place to send your wife for the summer months is some inaccessible little place where she can't telegraph for money.

A Problem

Senator Tillman said at a dinner: "Mr. Roosevelt had better not attack Tolstoy. He'll make himself unpopular. You know what happened the other day in Boston."

"A Boston lady," he resumed, "was talking about her maid."

"I don't know what to make of Minerva," she complained. "She's either a vandal or a faddist. I can't tell which."

"Why, this morning, just after the arrival of the Outlook with that cruel attack on Tolstoy in it, she dressed all the white shoes with my 50-cent bust of Mr. Roosevelt. The thing was either sheer laziness—we happened to be out of pipeclay at the time—or else it was an exhalation of rage on the part of a Tolstoyan faddist. What do you think, my dear?"

Absorbine on Broken Artery

Under date of Jan. 14, 1909, the following letter was received from John L. Funk, of Butler, Colo.: "I am writing you to thank you for the kind suggestions and interest you have taken in my case. My mare with the broken artery is entirely cured. The swelling has gone down and the leg is its normal size again. The swelling went down over a month ago and I thought it might cause trouble later on, but it is free to stay cured. I would not take $100 for what $4.00 worth of ABSORBINE did for this mare in my case. My mare with the broken artery is entirely cured. Isn't that a lovely shower," exclaimed Mrs. Randall to her friend in the parlor as they gazed out on the sudden downpour.

"Yes, we need it so badly," "Need it? I should say we did. It's a Godsend! Why, our goldfishes, hyacinths and roses out in the back yard are shrinking for the want of rain. The sprinkler can't take the place of rain, you know."

"Indeed not."

Cost Versus Beauty in Cows

The proud owner says "this is a high grade Canadian, and this is a pure-bred Holstein." The admiring visitor to the cow stable remarks "what beautiful cows." The thoughtful student asks: "What yield of milk do they give?" The practical man enquires: "What does their milk cost?" And the hard business sense of the dairyman leads him to determine cost of production of milk and fat through the medium of cow testing associations. The high grade cow may give but a poor weight of milk, the pure bred may test low while, the common grade may possibly be producing milk at the lowest cost. No one knows just what the cost is until some record is kept. Milk may cost 92 cents per 100 pounds, fat 25c per pound. These cost prices may be up to $2.00 per 100 pounds of milk and 50 cents per pound of fat with some poor cows; or they may be reduced by skilful economical feeders to 35c per one hundred and 10 cents per pound.

This all goes to prove that the careful dairyman, and particularly the average and possibly careless farmer, should take immediate steps to find out what profit each cow brings. Enormous improvement, and largely increased profits have been made by the men who are sufficiently alive to their own interests to weigh and sample each cow's milk regularly and keep a record of feed consumed. Blank forms for milk and feed records are supplied free on application to the Dairy Commissioner, Ottawa. A good record for this month from a herd of 18 cows is an average of 1020 pounds milk, 3.9 per cent test, 39 pounds fat. One grade in the herd gave 1530 pounds milk testing 4.0 per cent fat. Farmers Advocate and Home Journal.

Ghost Pine

The E. L. C. E. held its second annual picnic on the 1st on Mr. Down's picturesque flat near the creek. About sixty five were present. They gathered at one o'clock. Among the sports were football, baseball, pack race, wheel-barrow race, and three legged race. Mr. Saunders distinguished himself in the bucking contest. Tea was spread at five o'clock on one long table on the ground in good old picnic style. Besides the usual good things there was ice cream and lemonade in abundance. The company broke up about eight o'clock, declaring they all wanted to have just such another. Those who walked six miles considered it was worth it.

The July Home Journal

There is such an abundance of good things in the July Home Journal that it is difficult to say just what the outstanding features are.

"The Dominion of To-Day tells of the wonderful growth of Canada from 1867 to 1909. The new serial story 'The Mystery of Barry Ingram,' by Annie S. Swan, starts in this number. The opening chapters give promise of its being one of the best stories ever offered to Canadian readers.

"The Awakening" is an excellent short story of a dream that came true. Many girls have ambitions to become writers. Their troubles and perplexities are told in brief in "The Girl Who Wants to Write."

The whole issue is profusely illustrated. The cover is an excellent reproduction in colors of "The Violet Lady" by Canada's foremost artist, W. Goodie, who also contributed the "Summer Girl" which is printed in colors inside. This magazine has improved so much recently that many leading Canadian women are reading the Home Journal in preference to foreign publications.

The Western Touring Dramatic Company presented a delightful extravaganza in two acts entitled "A Breach of Promise" by T. W. Robertson the well known author of "Caste" "Money" etc., etc., which proved a great success and met with the general approval of all present, the principal characters were sustained by Messrs Wheelwright, who made a delightful "Phillip," S. Gorly, who gave an excellent portraiture of "Achates Croopie," Frank Lee, who took the part of "Mr. Ponticopp," a retired storekeeper, and Miss L. Brydon, who played prettily as "Honor Molloy" the heroine, and last, but by no means least Miss Hadling, who had a great idea of the part of Ponticopp's daughter. There has been expressed a wish and desire to see the company in Didsbury and it is hoped to be able to present the piece in Didsbury about the middle of the month.

To Improve Cemetery

What some of those present called an informal meeting, was held in the Evangelical Church, on Monday night last, to find the ways and means of improving and beautifying our cemetery. Among those present were Rev. C. S. Finkbeiner, D. S. Shantz, W. L. Martin, (Wm. Hunsperger, L. C. Snyder trustees) J. V. Berscht, F. Moyle, A. Cooper, and W. Bates.

The Rev. C. S. Finkbeiner presided over the meeting. W. Worton was asked to act as secretary for the evening.

In opening, the Chairman said that the object of the meeting was to discuss what should be done to improve the Cemetery also ways and means of doing same.

Mr. Shantz asked if an approximate statement could be given, as to how much there was in the treasury.

The Chairman then spoke advocating a proper organization, consisting of a president, etc., to look after the affairs of the cemetery.

After much talk and discussion on various matters connected with the cemetery, Mr. Bates said that the object of the meeting was not to discuss as to what should be done, but to arrange a method to raise enough money to do the work.

Mr. Berscht said that the public would want to know what was going to be done, before they subscribed any money for it, with which most of those present concurred.

After considerable more discussion Mr. Moyle moved that Mr. Berscht, Mr. Martin, and Mr. Cooper, along with the trustees, form a committee to inspect the cemetery, and make out a report and present same at a public meeting to be called by the trustees. Mr. Shantz, seconded. The resolution was carried.

It was resolved that a public meeting should be held next Tuesday night at 8 o'clock in the E. V. Church.

In reply to Mr. Shantz, Mr. Hunsperger said that there was $86.11 in the treasury. He also added that since he had been secretary he had done a large amount of work, and thought that he should receive some remuneration for his services 50c per lot sold he thought would be a fair amount. The general feeling was that the Sec. Treas. should be paid a fixed sum annually but nothing was done in the matter.

In reply to Mr. Bates Mr. Hunsperger said that their were three trustees elected along with the minister of every denomination in the district to manage the affairs of the cemetery.

The meeting then adjourned.

Rich Fruit and Farming Lands in Centre of Okanagan Now Offered to the Public Buy at the Opening Prices

We want every reader of this paper to take this as our official notice that our rich fruit land subdivision is now open for settlement and offered for sale to the public. Being situated about eighteen miles ride from Calgary by tram it will readily be seen that it is not in the wilderness but rather is located in the very heart of the famous Okanagan Valley.

This district has supplied the prize winning fruit of British Columbia for many years in competition at the Horticultural shows of the world.

Our property at Okanagan Centre is subdivided into ten acre farms. All farms front on main roads. The property is close to station, school, church and has excellent market accommodation.

A most complete irrigation system is in operation supplying an abundance of water at all seasons of the year, both for irrigation and domestic purposes.

Readers at a distance who do not find it convenient to come and see this property should lose no time in wiring our office to make a reservation subject to inspection within sixty days following your wire with a deposit of $50, which money will be refunded if you do not find the property exactly as represented in our advertising.

The prices per acre range from $125 to $200 per acre, terms, one quarter cash, balance spread over a period of two years. If you buy a farm to-day you could commence planting out a crop of small fruits and vegetables the very next day. These side crops could be placed between the rows of the young orchard which would reach maturity in from five to seven years.

This area of rich fruit land is naturally limited and judging from present conditions it will be sold off the market in a very short time. The earlier you make your reservation the better choice you will have and the closer-in your farm will be to the station.

On receipt of your wire to reserve, our manager will personally select for you the best unsold 10 acres and withdraw the same from sale. You will be notified immediately of the number of the plot, and its exact location. You will then have sixty days in which to make your inspection.

There are unlimited opportunities at Okanagan Centre for the industrious man with small capital. The total expense of settling out a ten acre orchard is scarcely $300. Between the rows of this young orchard you could plant and take off crops of small fruits and vegetables, which side crops would provide a good living and a neat sum for bank account. At the end of the fifth year statistics would show that the crops from a seven year orchard would be worth $1136.

Understand these figures are conservative estimates—a safe calculation.

The Climate here is equable, salubrious, and there is sunshine every day and a noticeable absence of severe winter seasons which predominate throughout the prairie provinces. If you were to come to Okanagan Centre to-morrow, you would find settled throughout its great valleys, hundreds of happy farmers from the prairies.

The farmers in the Okanagan Valley are fast becoming wealthy and independent with much less capital invested and about half the work necessary, to operate a large farm east of the Rocky Mountains

Don't waste time with correspondence, send in your wire to-day to reserve a farm and forward deposit by first mail of $50. If you find however that you cannot possibly come to inspect the property within sixty days better write for our booklet and maps descriptive of the property and district. The

maximum strength Sunshine Furnace has four triangular grate bars, each having three distinct sides. In the single-piece and two-piece grate no such provision is made for expansion or contraction, and a waste of coal always follows a shaking.
On the left- and right-hand sides are cutter pins, which when loosened permit the grates to slide out. These four grate bars are made of heavy cast iron, and are finished up with bulging teeth. The teeth will grind up the toughest clinker and because the grates are made in sections, not only can nothing but dust and ashes pass through, but after each shaking a different side can be presented to the fire. Also, with the Sunshine grate there is no back-breaking movements attached to the shaking. By gently rocking the lever, first on the left and then on the right, the ashes are released on both sides, and fall through into the pan.
